The Outlook says that the country "goes to war with extreme reluctance and with hatred of the barbarous method of settling disputes deep in its heart. It goes to war with sad deliberation and in a judicial spirit." This may be true of the Outlook, other excellent journals, the President and a good many people of the country, but exactly the opposite is true of the men and the journals who have "rushed" the nation into war. It is all sport and "business" for them.
